

GTR802A/B Advanced Global Trauma Recovery Practices

Abstract:

Building on the introductory trauma course, participants will deepen their understanding of the developmental impact of complex trauma as well as the role of culture and religion in both trauma formation and recovery. Participants will explore particular forms of trauma, responses to shame, as well as their own theology of spiritual warfare. Using case studies and live practice, students will focus on strength-based assessments, cross-cultural communication, trauma interventions for destabilized communities, and practical scripture engagement.

Objectives:

1. Examine specific features of traumas such as, gender-based violence, incest, forced marriage, accusations of witchcraft, HIV-AIDS, etc.
2. Examine theologies of shame and spiritual warfare
3. Explore advanced treatment options in unstable communities
4. Strengthen cross cultural listening and here/now process skills illustrating designed to build trust
5. Complete strength-based assessments of traumatized individuals and communities
6. Exposure to faith engaged trauma recovery interventions

Course Outline:

1. GTR802A is online: January 5 to February 2, 2019 (40 hours of educational activity)
2. GTR802B is hybrid with in person portion: March 12-14, 2019 in Center City Philadelphia at the Community of Practice (at the American Bible Society's corporate office) (32 hours of educational activity). Additional online material will be required to read/view prior to the in person portion.

Note: This course is broken into two parts, an online portion (worth 40 CE's or 1 graduate credit) and an in person intensive (with 32 CE's or 1 graduate credit). Students may choose to complete only the online portion or both portions. However, students not completing the in person portion will not be eligible for immersion experiences with GTRI.

Pre-requisites:

Completion of GTR801A Introduction to Global Trauma Recovery. Reading of Healing Wounds of Trauma (Hill, Hill, Bagge & Miersma) in last 3 months. A 2016 (new) edition is available at www.bibles.com. Be sure to choose the right language or version (print, kindle, or EPUB).

Professors:

Dr. Diane Langberg is a practicing psychologist whose clinical expertise includes 35 years of working with trauma survivors and clergy. She speaks internationally on topics related to women, trauma, ministry and the Christian life. She is the director of Diane Langberg, Ph.D. & Associates, a Christian counseling practice. In addition to being the executive chair of the American Association of Christian Counselors, Dr. Langberg is a clinical faculty member at Missio Seminary.

Dr. Philip Monroe is the Taylor Visiting Professor of Counseling & Psychology and former Director of the Missio Seminary Graduate School of Counseling. He maintains a small private practice with Dr. Langberg. Currently he is Director of Training and Mentoring at The American Bible Society.

Note to Students

The on-line portion of this course is spread over 4 weeks. We will provide you with an array of pertinent readings, notes, narrated slides, or other AV materials to highlight key issues. From these materials, you will be expected to react and engage faculty and classmates via discussion boards, reflection papers, and other collaborative activities. Each week we will introduce you to the week's concepts and review our expectations of you. While the course is primarily "asynchronous," you will need to be on the course website on and off throughout each week in order to engage the material and your peers. In addition, there are 4 required live web conferences with the professors. You will notice that we are using our own experiences in Africa to illustrate this course. However, the principles set forth should prepare you to enter into any culture in an effective learner manner.

COURSE PROCEDURES & COURSE REQUIREMENTS

1. Readings. Upper level graduate courses are designed for the motivated student. Required readings are expected to be done by due dates in order to facilitate discussion and interaction with the material. At the end of the course, you will be asked what percentage of the readings you completed on-time. IMPORTANT NOTE: Some of the hyperlinked readings listed in the course planner can only be accessed if you are already logged into e-campus and have already clicked library and find articles. You may need your student ID number to complete the log-in.

2. Discussions. Each week you will have discussion board entries to make. Each entry should be substantive. You should also plan to respond at least once each discussion board to another person. Again, these ought also to be substantive. Merely agreeing or disagreeing does not add to learning. Raising questions, expanding on an idea, reflecting on personal experiences do add to our group learning. [Activity does not count as part of CE hours but is required.]
3. Live Web Conference Class Time. Your professor will hold required virtual office hours to discuss class materials and reinforce learnings once each week. Dates: 1/8, 1/15, 1/22, and 1/29 at 4 pm EST (New York time zone). You must attend at least 2 of the 4 live web conferences unless you live in Europe, Africa, or Asia. If you are unable to attend all of the live webcast(s), you must request prior permission and you will be required to watch the recording within 72 hours.
4. Written Assignments. Postgraduate training focuses less on regurgitation and more on consolidating key concepts (learnings) and application. Each week you will have a short written assignment in the form of a journal to track what you are learning and to consider how you might use what you are learning in your current and future context.
